European REACH General Statement

Dear Customer,

Hubron (International) Ltd manufacture Masterbatch products. These products are classified as mixtures and as such they do not have to be registered under EU REACH (EC) 1907/2006.

For the placement of Hubron goods on the European market, we can confirm that all our raw materials are EU REACH registered as substances by our suppliers according to Title II of REACH, from a European Legal Entity not located in the UK.

Following EU Registration requirements, we would also advise that Hubron black masterbatches do not contain, as of the date of this letter, any intentionally added "Substances of Very High Concern" (above the 0.1% threshold) as per the ECHA Candidate List Table (219 items) updated 8th July 2021.

Hubron customers do not have to fulfil any REACH Registration requirements as the substances used in the manufacture of Hubron masterbatches are either coming from Europe or covered by an Only Representative.

In cases where an Only Representative is involved in the supply chain, we will work closely with the relevant supplier to ensure the re-import of substances into the EU is accounted and controlled.

Where necessary and not at the detriment to intellectual property Hubron will provide information on exported substances under a non-disclosure agreement.

For further information on the above please contact Hubron directly.

Yours Faithfully

Robert Laurent
Technical Manager
